SUMMER: A SEASON OF CHANGE

◆ FROM YOUR PRESIDENT, KIM MUNKRIES

It's summer, and that means a change in board leadership. It's always an honor to do good work on behalf of an organization that does so much for so many. And I hope I can live up to my predecessors' legacies in helping navigate the changes required to lead this organization into its next phase of growth and development.

For emerging and seasoned artists alike, the Redlands Art Association offers fertile ground for learning and mentoring. There are classes and workshops, events and receptions, all of which can inspire and challenge artists at every stage of their creative life.

This month, the Gallery has a new exhibition "Mirror Moves," which features the work of painter Ginger Peña and photographer, Bruce Herwig. It reminds me that collaboration—and their accompanying deadlines—is often the fuel for artists to make things happen.

It's always gratifying to see members doing great things. And that is certainly the case with two of our most experienced member artists, Teri Adams and David Fairrington. Teri was awarded an honorable mention winner at The 2019 Members Show at the Riverside Art Museum and David's Red Kimono II project was the focus of an LGBTQ fundraiser at the Palm Springs Cultural Center. See the story on page 4.

If you have earned any recent awards, have an upcoming gallery show, or are launching a significant new initiative, please let us know at newsletter@redlandsartassociation.org. We want to celebrate you in our newsletter.

This summer and fall, you may be asked to fill out a survey when you attend any of the many cultural events around Redlands. The City of Redlands, in cooperation with local organizations, including RAA, will conduct intercept surveys to help determine the economic impact of the cultural arts in Redlands. Every dollar spent on the arts within the community has a multiplier effect both economically and culturally. This is a first for Redlands, and we hope you will participate in the survey if given the opportunity.

Board of Director Opening

It's a new year and we are seeking board leadership. Use your ideas, energy and skills to make RAA a stronger, more inclusive environment for the visual arts community. Please contact Kris Bussard at kbussard@altavistacu.org or the gallery at (909) 792-8435.

Redlands Art Association is a non-profit organization founded to support and encourage the visual arts through education and example.

NEWS FROM THE GALLERY

Summer Art Camps: A Different Kind of Art Tradition!

The Redlands Art Association has offered Summer Art Camps and weekly classes for many years. Our annual 6-week Summer Program is different than other art program providers. Here's why:

First, we offer three sessions of classes for 2 weeks each, instead of just "one-day" experiences. This type of format allows for multiple projects and consistent development of skills, ideas and creativity.

Second, our instructors come from a wide range of professional and art-related backgrounds.

Third, the cost of our classes is reasonable, making our camps and weekly classes a fantastic value for our Redlands community. We offer scholarships, as well.

And Fourth, The Redlands Art Association through MCAEEF (Margaret Clark Arts Education Enrichment Fund) offer grants for Art Education in the community of Redlands. We are delighted to extend this valuable resource to the youth of our community. We believe that promoting additional exposure to visual art and art education can make our community better.

This year we will have a Youth Art Show displaying artwork from our 6-week camps and weekly classes. The show will be on display from July 20-25 in the gallery at 215 E. State St.

Please come and see what the children are creating.

Changes in Adult Class & Workshop Fees

If you are taking a class or workshop, you will probably notice a fee adjustment. You'll find some classes/workshops went up, and some went down, but you are now paying the same hourly rate for every class/workshop.

Why? Because the previous fee schedule created inequities on the teacher pay scale for adult classes and workshops. There were so many different classes with different class lengths and number of hours; it just got to be very confusing and, quite frankly, it wasn't fair to the instructors. The Finance Committee, with input from instructors and staff, developed fees based on the number of hours of instruction a student receives to make it fair across the board for students and teachers alike.

RAA is fortunate to have so many talented art instructors who so work hard to deliver quality art education for just about every artist's skill level. A heartfelt thank you to all of our great art teachers!

Call For Entries: 11th Annual Community Photo Show!

Redlands Art Association is again hosting its annual community photo show, from July 29 to August 4. You may show up to 2 entries, on any subject, with no restriction on size or date of creation. The public is invited to enter. No membership required.

Take-in for the show will be on Saturday, July 27, from 1 to 4 pm. The show will be hung the following day and will be ready for viewing on Monday, July 29. Gallery hours are 11 am to 5 pm, Monday through Saturday.

All entries must be ready for hanging—framed paper prints, or on canvas or metal, wired for hanging on the back. Please identify each piece with your name and contact information on the back of each entry.

A reception will be held on Sunday, August 4, from 2 – 4 pm. Bring friends and family to enjoy the show, have some refreshments, and meet other like-minded photographers. Your photographs may be taken home at the end of the reception.

So, take your best shots and bring them to RAA for a chance to show them off, and be part of a fun show!

Help Needed: Take-In and Hanging Committees

The Take-in and Hanging committees need your help. About every five weeks, we prepare for a new show. Artwork for the exhibition is taken in on Fridays; the hanging committee puts up the show on Saturday morning. To volunteer, please contact the gallery at (909) 792-8435.

Museum Seeks Work From Local Artists

The San Bernardino County Museum wants to partner with local artists to sell work through its newly remodeled, and soon to reopen, gift shop.

They are specifically interested in the following:

- Visual artists who are interested in licensing their work for resell
- Local crafts people who want to sell their work

Additionally, in a couple of months, they will have a citrus exhibition, so citrus-themed or practical citrus-related crafts will be welcomed.

If you are interested, please contact Melissa Russo, Executive Director, at Melissa.Russo@sbcm.sbcounty.gov

Featured Artists: Ernesto Gomez & Terrie Burian

July 20–Aug. 9 | Reception: Saturday July 20, 3-5pm

From Ernesto: I grew up in the Caribbean: Cuba and Puerto Rico. I loved beach and ocean, my dad taught me to sail before I was ten. My parents were both architects and I grew up in a house filled with art. All my life I continued, surrounded by, and loving art, but having no idea I could actually do art. Then I took a watercolor class one summer, loved it, and took more classes at RAA. Art has opened up areas of my mind I didn't know were there when I was only doing science and math – and it brings me enormous joy and satisfaction.

I paint from memory and imagination – I sometimes refresh my memory from photos I have taken, often I paint something I see only in my mind. I draw on memories – beaches, the sea, sailing, the city of San Juan where I finished growing up. I love cities, and I love to paint them – particularly Redlands where I live, and New York where my grandchildren live, and other places I have visited.

I don't always know what I'm going to paint; my most satisfying work takes me in unexpected directions while I am painting it and I deeply enjoy the dialog between me and my work. I don't aim for realism – I want to give my impression and feelings, and I use bright colors to express my joy in being able to create art.

Local artist Terrie Burian's passion is for making jewelry inspired by nature. She's been a dedicated Yosemite camper since 1955 and has never missed a year. Her mother was a Cherokee, Native American, and feels that is where her desire to create Native American style jewelry comes from. Self-taught, Terrie never knows how a piece will turn out until she picks up a stone to use. She loves using organic materials, wire and thinks these materials keep the link to her mother alive. As well as Yosemite, Terrie loves visiting Quartzite, Mammoth, Bishop and Crowley Lake areas where you'll find her head down, looking for stones to use in her jewelry.

Featured Artists: Elizabeth Rydall & Carol Mahlum

Reception Saturday, Aug. 17, 2–4PM

From Elizabeth: As a painter, I coined a technique called "seven layer painting," (after the dip of the same name). Stencils, washes, collage, dripping, spray paint, some junk, and finally acrylic paint are used in this technique and it is a blast—always an adventure! I initially set out with a phrase, a lyric or an idea that persists for a while like, "demystifying the mystical," or "set my lonely spirit free." This is the inception of the painting. Then, the rest is an enormous improvisation with a theme. I play at it, work at it, sometimes destroy it and start over. Until I am satisfied, and then, voila, a painting!

Carol writes: My two big passions have always been creative arts and travel, both international and domestic. Since childhood, my creative side has had me involved in woodworking, painting, art glass and jewelry making. After retiring, I was fortunate to be able to take classes in jewelry making from some of the best instructors one could wish for. I was taught the skills for designing and sculpting silver art clay, wire wrapping and metal smithing which allows me to produce some amazing pieces of jewelry. My travels have given me the opportunity to enjoy unique pieces of art throughout the world and to gain inspiration for my own creative passions within.

Featured Artist: Maggie Williams & Andrea Beechko

Reception Saturday, Aug. 31, 2–4PM

Maggie writes: I have always loved art and began drawing when I was 4 years old. Over the years, I have taken a number of art classes and workshops in oils, watercolors, pastels and colored pencils. For the last 25 years or more, colored pencil has been my preferred medium. My love of nature, particularly the seacoast, trees, forests, and the red rock of the southwest, has inspired many of my paintings.

My subjects range from landscapes (real, imagined, or abstracted) to dreamscapes, mythic themes, and fantasy art. My natural style is exemplified by flowing lines, vivid colors, and often stylized depictions.

It is my joy to share my art with you.

From Andrea: "I've always been a crafts person and I love detail in handcrafted things. I had always wanted to try crafting jewelry but it wasn't until just a few years ago that I took the plunge. My love of nature and the outdoors guided me to working with natural stones. I'm always exploring and looking for new ideas to try and learn. I enjoy designing my Tree of Life Pendants as each one has its own unique, personality and beauty. "

Red Kimono II Exhibition

David Fairrington's Red Kimono II exhibition premiered on Saturday, June 29 at the Palm Springs Cultural Center and will run through September 2019.

The Red Kimono II project uses oil-painted portraiture to give insight into the diverse culture and economics of the LGBTQ community. Its purpose is to forge better understanding between the LGBTQ community and the straight world using a Red Kimono as a cloak of humanity that unites all of us.

Each portrait represents a local LGBTQ+ charity, and attendees are encouraged to vote for their favorite portraiture/charity. Each "vote" equals one dollar. The winning painting will hang at the Palm Springs Cultural Center for one year.

"The hardest part was trying to get each person's energy into their portrait," says David. "Their energy shows how they wanted to be portrayed, how they see themselves."

David is an internationally known artist and member of RAA who grew up in Texas and graduated from Texas Tech University. David's career took off in San Francisco and Los Angeles designing and executing movie posters for motion picture studios including; Twentieth Century Fox, Warner Bros., Columbia Pictures, Universal and MGM. He was named a "Master Artist" by "International Artist" magazine, and his portraits of such notables as Arthur Ashe, Police Chief William J. Bratton, Congressman Alan Lowenthal and Congresswoman Janice Hahn are in private and corporate collections

Teri Adams Honored for Moored

Teri Adams, a Redlands painter, received an Honorable Mention for her work, Moored, from the Riverside Art Museum (RAM) as part of its 2019 Members' Exhibition. This is RAM's yearly exhibit to show off artwork by the museum's many talented artist-members.

Teri has a B.A. in Art, with an emphasis in Communication Design from California State University, San Bernardino. Her work has been featured in the Palette Magazine and exhibited in numerous galleries and shows over the past 12 years.

"My process is 10% playing around on the page and 90% problem-solving. I love to play with the paint, swooshing it around, and then organizing that fun into a workable painting. That makes each painting a totally new challenge," says Teri.

RAA Members Win AwardsKathy Paulus at Western Art Show

I was honored to be able to submit three of my pastel paintings in the Western Art Show in Banning California and was doubly honored with the award of 1st place for my "Proud Puma!" This was my first year attending their show and it was a fun evening with a potluck and music from the Foothill Ramblers. I was also blessed to be able to sell my Puma (cougar) to a wonderful couple who are fans of BYU Cougars! I want to thank Chuck McCracken for allowing me to be in their Western Art Show!

Darlene Douthit at Loma Linda Cultural Arts Association

My first place award winner was "Joy" in Watercolor and Honorable mention "Wild" in Acrylic at Loma Linda Cultural Arts Association Fine Arts Festival.
